

KETTERINGHAM HALL, nr. Wymondham, bet. Ely and Norwich
(Norfolk)

Michaelis p. 415.

This collection was not visited by Michaelis, who describes four marbles seen by Waagen at the country seat of Sir John Boileau.

1. MARBLE (FUNERARY:) RELIEF FOUND AT NÔMES

See under no. 6, below - for a possible fragment of restoration.

2. STATUETTE OF A ROMAN PRINCE AS THE YOUNG HERCULES

3. BUST OF THE EMPEROR NERO

4. ROMAN BUST.

In July 1955 the Rev. W.C. Hall, Smallburgh Rectory, Norwich, Norfolk, sent the following pieces to the Department of Greek and Roman Antiquities, British Museum.

5 CORNER OF A SMALL SARCOPHAGUS LID.

A Youthful Satyr's Mast.

Island Marble.

H.:.10 W.:.07

6.. (The other items comprised a head of a bearded philosopher-type man, probably a restoration from an ancient relief, and a Nineteenth Century brick fabrication in the Greek Archaic style. The scene represented appears to be Boreas and his son Achilles.)
